

Pupils Reassigned

November Reopening For Bancroft

By Linda S. Corbett

The latest delay in repair of the Bancroft roof will mean the busing of that school's youngsters to three or four other buildings come September.

Reporting to the school committee and a delegation of Bancroft parents Tuesday night, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said that each family will be communicated with the week before school opens regarding the moves, and that they anticipate having the youngsters back where they belong sometime in early November, "if all goes well."

The latest chapter in the continuing roof saga developed last month when the only bid received for the Bancroft roof-plus repairs came in at $250,000 — well above the $196,000 provided by town meeting in the spring.

Plans have since been scaled down and new bids are due Aug. 14.

Seifert said he anticipates "some bids" at an "acceptable price," with a starting date later this month.

Meanwhile plans are being made for the children to be bused to other schools — most likely Doherty, Shawsheen, West and Sanborn. South is out, Seifert said, because it is already "packed."

He said that wherever possible, grade levels would remain in tact, and as many classes as possible will be kept together with their same teachers.

He said the students would probably arrive by their usual means at Bancroft and then be transported to the new schools, with a maximum increase of 15 minutes traveling time both morning and afternoon.

He said there should be little problem in

Eight More Police Needed — Clark

By Tim Greene

The town of Andover needs eight more uniformed policemen on the street, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said this week.

The force, now at 42 including 32 patrolmen, has recently been called inadequate to cope with vandalism in town. Clark said the addition of eight policemen would bring the force up to the number needed to patrol the town adequately. The manager's remarks were part of his evaluation of the vandalism problems in town, and his consideration of imposing a town-wide curfew or restrictions on public property after dark.

"It very well may be appropriate to have a town-wide curfew and then as things improve, gradually relax the restrictions," said Clark. "I think we have to target in on problems."

Targets include parks, schools and reservoirs. The manager suggested that placing sunset bans on these public areas might help the problem. Clark said such bans had been used in Dover, N. H. and Lincoln Park, N. J., towns where he worked before coming to Andover.

He said in those towns the sunset bans "worked reasonably well" and "the amount of public property damage declined."

The ban created additional enforcement problems for police, according to Clark, because they had to make sure the problem areas were closed. "When people became aware of the curfews," he added, "the time consumed to enforce the curfew was reduced. Based on my experience elsewhere, I think there is a need to close off specific areas. As for a general curfew, I'm not sure."

"I think we have to develop a strategy to control vandalism and misbehavior in town. Disadvantages of things like a curfew is that you deny legitimate access to public property and you deny that access to all people."

Certain areas, such as reservoirs, should be off limits under any circumstances, Clark said. As for other areas, he was hesitant to say that curfews and sunset bans would be solutions.

"It's always been my experience that when you clamp down someplace, you get problems someplace else," the manager

Glaser To Be Appointed To Library Board

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said this week he would name Joseph A. Glaser, recently retired executive vice president of the Raytheon Company, to the Memorial Hall Library Board of Trustees.

Clark said he would present Glaser's appointment to the selectmen for confirmation Monday night.

The manager said that naming the retired Raytheon executive brings to the board a person with a business background, something he and the trustees agreed would be beneficial.

Clark said that Glaser, in addition to his background, has demonstrated interest and concern for Andover through his direction of the Andover Raytheon operations.

Glaser will replace Frederick S. Allis who has retired.

Residents To Recommend Controls

Residents of Algonquin Avenue and Indian Ridge Estates, are scheduled to meet Friday night in an effort to come up with some solution to the traffic and speed problems in their area.

An appeal to selectmen for some controls several weeks ago resulted in signs and controls being posted. After they were in place, some residents found themselves having to take circuitous routes to and from their homes.

Selectmen at their last meeting asked the residents to meet and resolve the problem mutually and appear at the Monday meeting of the board with recommendations.

Report On Shawsheen Gym In October

An interim report on the use of the Cardinal Cushing gymnasium as municipal facility may be presented to the October town meeting.

Sale of the gym to the Andover companies for use as storage was suggested to the annual town meeting. Proceeds of the sale were to be applied to rebuilding of Recreation Park Lodge. Voters rejected the gym sale, and subsequently lost the lodge reconstruction, when it was suggested that a study of the gymnasium be made.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said this week that the Community Services Committee would be doing the study and coming up with the report. To be included in the evaluation of facilities available for community service use, will be an examination of all town buildings, their availability and useage and how they would meet the town's needs.

Clark said that the committee would be applying the same logic to the study of town buildings as the school department has been asked to appraise the use of the educational plant in consideration of the school building program.

New Flag Arrives

A new town flag costing $400 arrived in town hall this week.

The flag, pale blue with a gold fringe on the border and the town seal in the center, replaced the one stolen from the Phillips Academy Cage during town meeting this spring.

A reward was offered for its return, but it was never found.

The original flag was presented as a gift to the town during the Phillips Academy Bicentennial celebration a year ago.

Cong. Shannon To Visit Saturday

Transit Authority Gets Grant

Fifth District Congressman James M. Shannon reports that the Federal Department of Transportation has awarded over $500,000 to the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority to assist that agency in establishing a more effective public transportation system in the area.

The MVRTA serves the Merrimack River Valley area, including the Greater Lawrence communities of Andover, Methuen, Lawrence, and North Andover.

Shannon said that the grant will come in two parts, the first section of $232,800, and the second of $269,160.

"Both parts of the award are designated to provide assistance to the Regional Transit Authority for the purchase of four 30-passenger shuttle vehicles. These buses will have lift equipment for handicapped individuals.

"The grants also include provisions for the purchase of spare parts for inventory, and for purchasing four two-way radios and accompanying support equipment," Shannon added.

"I am happy that the Department of Transportation is acknowledging the pressing need for improved public transit facilities by its approval of this grant to MVRTA. I will continue to do all I can to attract more Federal programs to this area for this important regional need."

Carillon Concert Tuesday

The final program in the current series of six summer carillon recitals on the 37-bell Samuel Lester Fuller carillon in Memorial Tower, Phillips Academy, will be given on Tuesday evening Aug. 7, at 7 p.m., rain or shine. The guest carillonneur will be William Jenner of Boston.

Jenner is a native of Canada, and studied organ there with Victor Kerslake. He has taught at the Universities of British Columbia, Michigan, North Carolina, Bucknell and Northwestern. He is presently organist at St. Philip Neri Parish in Waban, teaches privately in Boston and at Suffolk University, and studies carillon with Earl Chamberlain of Cohasset.

The public is invited free of charge. Bring blankets, chairs, picnic suppers. Printed programs and descriptive brochures about the carillon are available in the stand at the base of the tower. The best listening area is at some distance from the tower, on the lawn opposite the gymnasium between Bulfinch Hall and the tower fence.

Following the recital there will be an "Open Tower" demonstration conducted by Sally Slade Warner, Academy Carillonneur. Those wishing to climb the tower will find a list of instructions printed on the back of the programs.

New Committeeman May Be Chosen Tonight

The school committee should be back to its full force to five by tomorrow.

The committee and selectmen are meeting jointly at 7:30 tonight to interview a fifth candidate for the seat vacated by school committeeman Casimir Kolaski earlier this summer. Then, they are expected to narrow the field down to two or three by secret ballot, with the final decision being made by roll call vote.

Put through their paces at a joint meeting of the boards Tuesday night were hopefuls Richard Neal, Edward Kaufman, Stanley Wrobel and Joseph Baglio. Each in turn answered a list of 13 prepared questions about budgeting issues, building, computers and the like, and then responded to a handful of spontaneous ones from around the table.

Donald Robert, who had an unavoidable conflict Tuesday, will face the dual boards tonight.

Richard Neal

Dick Neal told them Tuesday he feels he owes the town something for the 25 years he's lived here, and because he's in education — he's a middle school principal in Westford and a former teacher here — the school committee is where he feels he could best serve.

He said his education background gives him an advantage in the contest for the eight-month appointment, because it wouldn't take him a long time to get a hold on school business. "I'm in a position," he said, "to begin working immediately."

He said he has developed both line item and program budgets as a school administrator, and while he isn't a computer expert, was a college math major and has taken several courses and a seminar on computers.

He listed the budget, building program and handling of declining enrollments and school closings as major issues facing the committee in the next few years. Because of the immense size of the budget, he recommended setting up a budgeting system that would set the stage for a few years ahead. That way, he said, they wouldn't have to approach each item on a yearly basis.

He said it has taken the system a long time to get to where it is with the building program, but feels the present tack of identifying the system's educational needs and then determining what it should have in the way of buildings, is the appropriate one.

He felt "strongly" that there should be two junior highs, and that putting 9th graders in the high schools allows 7th and 8th graders to "stay kids a little longer."

Neal said one of the system's biggest pluses is the creative atmosphere that pervades from the superintendent on down. He said the staff feel they can develop ideas and pursue them through to fulfillment because of support from the committee and administration. This results, he said, in such programs as AIRS.

"The school system has come a long way in the years since the present administration came here," he added.

On the other hand, he felt student attitudes still need a lot of attention.

"The students spend too much time just looking in a mirror," he said, "when they need to look at others and how they fit into the total school community and the town."

As for synchronizing quality education and fiscal prudence, Neal said it was important that whatever the system does, it does well. He said townspeople have every right to be proud of their schools, "but not theright to feel that everything they want can be done within the financial constraints."

He said he maintains some friendships here, seven years after he left this system, but doesn't feel they would cause a problem for him on the committee.

Edward Kaufman

Ed Kaufman felt his strongest qualification for the post is that he ran for school committee last spring, and had the advantage of meeting a lot of people and knowing their concerns. He said he feels he has a "mandate" from almost 900 people who voted for him.

With 14 years in education — he now teaches in Woburn — Kaufman said he feels he knows the school business, and has worked with school committees over the years "both as protagonist and antagonist."

He said he also worked in a bank and ran a small business, and as former president of the teacher's union, was deeply involved in budgeting and negotiating a contract with the school committee.

Finally, he said, he knows the ramifications of a budget on the classroom.

Kaufman has had a course in basic computer language and cautioned that while they have a definite use, computers can be overused and tend to make programming impersonal.

He sees the major school issue as funding, and said the committee must be careful not to cut the quality of education. He said he wouldn't cut a budget if he knew quality would be hurt — to the extent of using every legal recourse available to the school committee — and they are considerable — to make sure the monies were there.

"It's the school committee's responsibility," he said, "to maintain quality without concern for political ramifications."

Kaufman said the school committee should have made a decision on the building project a long time ago because the delay is costing the taxpayers money. He also felt that if they came in with a strong recommendation, the town and building committee would go along. He himself favors a four-year high school, and one large junior high at the Shawsheen Road site.

Kaufman credited Andover with a "good sound system," but said he'd like to see a more utilitarian approach, so graduates could get a job and know how to live. He urged giving more responsibility at a younger age, and recommended a harder line on discipline. He said the school committee should use its power of expulsion more.

Kaufman gave the administration a letter grade of "B," and pointed one finger in the maintenance direction.

Stanley Wrobel said he is eager to contribute his analytical abilities — he is a scientist — to the school system and, in a moment of levity, added that being on the committee would put him on an official telephone list. He has gone to many meetings, he said, only to find out they

Now away from the laboratory table and into management, he said he has troubleshooting and long-range planning experience as well as involvement in budgetary issues. While his $700,000 budget is "not the same as $12 million," he said he has to put together programs with appropriate funding and monitor them to see that they're staying within their bounds.

Wrobel said he feels the scope of the building project is probably more than the committee bargained for, but believes that determining the type of education program Andover wants and then the physical plant, is the right approach. While he doesn't have a building preference at the moment, he said he would lean heavily on the recommendations of the administration, and work with all the available information to determine the best alternative.

One of the big education issues, he said, is how far the schools should go, beyond, the teaching of the basics, and into the areas of trades and social responsibilities.

He felt the individualized program is one of the system's strong points, but added that this also creates a burden on the people who have to administer it. He said they also have to be concerned about the effect the individualized program has on town finances. He said he would hope to find other ways of budgeting, without using a cleaver on programs.

Joseph Baglio

Joe Baglio told the joint boards that he has been involved with the Andover Schools in an advisory capacity over the years — with the West Elementary PTO, the declining Enrollment Committee, recent population projections — and would like to switch over to the decision-making role of the school committeeman. He said he is interested as a taxpayer in controlling costs, and as a parent, in pursuing quality.

He defined quality education as the ability of the school system to train children to function properly in society. He said he wasn't overly concerned about how the schools train the child in general, as long as they give him basic skills, some self awareness (through arts, phys ed), and some preparation for life (through courses in marriage, drug abuse and the like).

He said the system's plus is that it does offer a large number of courses, and that he is happy with the "gamut" of "very good alternatives" from the open classroom to the traditional.

He said the biggest problem in the schools is social, one that he doesn't really know how to handle, but feels the system should spend much more time trying to solve. Another recent problem, he said, was the "tactical mistake" of the administration when it came in with an 11 percent increase budget.

In the building area, Baglio favors a new East Jr. High and feels strongly against a two-year secondary school. But, he said, he is open to other groupings.

Finally, he said he favors the open meeting law, and that one of the reasons he hasn't run for school committee before was a law suit involving former school committeemen accused of violating it.

Bancroft

curriculum adjustment, because all of the elementary school programs are compatible. All, for instance, use IMS and AIRS.

The use of cafeteria space has been ruled out as an "unsatisfactory" alternative, and the Bancroft pupils will be placed in regular classrooms. This means, however, that the host schools will be sacrificing some "special" rooms now earmarked for art and music. Where possible, however, the students will still move from their home classroom to the gym for phys ed and to art and music rooms for those classes.

Seifert said the administration has more or less ruled out double sessions at one school until the entire project is finished.

The scaled down version of the project retains all necessary repairs to the roof. The plan to move the air conditioner from its tower perch above the boiler has been postponed, however, and finish carpenter work inside will be left to the school department to take care of as it can.

In response to a parent seeking guarantees, Seifert said that he didn't know anyone who guarantees a roof, and that because of the overall construction of the building, it is never going to be "air tight" even when the roof problem is solved.

He said the school department may hire its own "clerk of the works," however, to be on location to see that the contractor lives up to the bid specifications. A bond will be posted, he said, but it would only be in the area of $5,000 for a $250,000 project. If you asked a company to put up $250,000 in escrow for the 20-year life of a roof, he said, there would be no bidders.

He said the schools will simply use the same care they did in rebuilding the high school roof a few years ago. It has not leaked since.

Fears of a major investment in handicapped facilities have been allayed by a compromise with the Architectural Barriers Board, Seifert said. They have agreed to go along with one bathroom that will handle a handicapped person in wheelchair, and for a ramp at the main entrance — changes that will cost something less than $2,000. Otherwise, Seifert said, the board could come in and go through the whole school and require changes that would cost considerably more.

In answer to another parent, Seifert said that at least three other contractors had looked at the roof and not submitted bids at the last go-around.

If the new bids come in only $5,000 to $10,000 over the town meeting allotment, Seifert said they could look for the funds elsewhere in the school budget or go back to the Finance Committee. School Chairman Elaine Viehmann added that there are several other options, including going back to town meeting in the fall. But, she said, it is "too early to look at the dismal side of the what if's."

Seifert tagged "erroneous" a rumor that this is the first step toward closing down Bancroft School. As a parent, he said he is very happy with Bancroft. However, he said, any school is up for closing in the next few years, and Mrs. Viehmann said that the declining population says there will be a school closed eventually.

That does not necessarily mean it would be closed up forever, she added. Instead, she said, there would be some move to use it in another way. She said they would look at the most expensive buildings to run — mostly likely Stowe and Jackson Schools — and make changes accordingly.

Seifert said he doubted that Bancroft

Ballardvale

It was another blistering week at Ballardvale, but we all managed to survive and still have enough energy left for fun. Most of the week we spent preparing for Good Sports Competition. Monday was banner making day. We used all the colors of the rainbow in our playground banner. Susan Parker, Sean Cassidy, and Steven Mills were the creators of the banner. Gimp bugs were the main attraction on Tuesday. Wednesday was the puppet show which drew a large crowd. Angie Guiliano and Ann Murnane were a bit apprehensive at first, because of the witch in the show. Once they decided it was all in fun everyone had a good time, and really enjoyed the show. We started Thursday off by making Pom-Poms, which led to fan making designed by Veronica Croke and Melina Mills to cool-off with. We also had some last minute run-offs for Good Sports so that we could determine who will compete in what events. The star participants in Good Sports were Debbie Prussman and Patrick Finn who got first place in the Bubble Gum Blowing contest and also in many other events. Some of the other participants were Shannon and Sean Cassidy, Veronica Croke, Melina and Steve Mills and Ricky, Butchy, and Scott Scheapp. Congratulations to everybody for a really great job!!

South

South plunged into its sixth week of playground despite the devastating heat! Monday we got everyone signed up for Good Sports Day and practiced Jokari. Tuesday was "Come as you are day." Almost everyone came dressed in their best bathrobes, pajamas and slippers.

Winners of our contests were: Mark Edelsberg — Best PJ's; Eliza Edelsberg — Sleepy head; Heather Davidson — Yawning Award; Pam rockman — Dozzze off award; Jennifer Davison — Beauty Sleep Award. David Corbett and Mark Edelsberg ate the most donuts and of course, will be representing us in the Donut eating contest at Good Sports. After the breakfast was over, we played Sanborn in hockey and Rich Brideau was the star with 1 goal and several assists.

Wednesday Mike and Kim took almost everyone to B'vale for the puppet show, while Sue and Peggy held the fort. The heat was so awesome we all sat around the picnic table and played "I doubt it," all the while hoping to see the ice cream man before we all melted. When everyone came back we got into some bead making; Dawn Barrow, Pam Rockman, and Laura Ladd came up with some pretty necklaces and bracelets. Thursday the older kids went to West for hockey while we created sand pictures and then, the Main Event! Sprinkler Party! Everyone enjoyed cooling off, one way or another, either by the sprinkler or by the water balloon fight. Somehow, Sue seemed to get the soggy end of the deal. Our final event of the day was a surprise attack launched on our hockey players as they got off the bus and they sure were surprised!

West

West had another super week this past week. Monday began with a great craft, bottle vases. The kids brought in clear glass bottles and we created "stained glass" vases by applying tissue paper and shellacing them. Tuesday we added the finishing touches to our vases by making crepe paper flowers to put in them. Tuesday was also kids as counselors Day. Muffy Murro, Michelle Giannone, Mike Petteroto, Mark Doherty, Janet Lyons and John Haddad were the counselors for the day and they helped the regular staff out greatly. Wednesday, we attended a puppet show, Inside the Haunted House, in Ballardvale. It was a very good play and we wish to thank Laurie and Kim for a nice morning. Thursday we made our tie dye shirts which turned out very attractive. We also created a giant fruit salad. Each playgrounder brought in a piece of fruit and with combined efforts we made a cool and refreshing treat. In between all our crafts this week, we practiced for our Good Sports Competition. Friday brought with it the Good Sports Competition. All that participated had a fantastic time. West would like to thank Doherty for a wonderful day.

Children's Museum Features Japan

Visitors to Boston's Children's Museum can now watch a team of Japanese craftsmen as they reassemble a two-story Japanese house and street scene inside Museum Wharf, the new home of the Children's Museum.

The 150-year-old house has been given to Boston by her Sister City, Kyoto, Japan, and people in both cities are contributing the installation costs. When completed, the Kyo-machiya ("Kyoto-style artisan's house and shop") will be used to teach children and adults about contemporary life in Kyoto. The Japanese House exhibit and related programs feature crafts, home and work activities and an annual series of Japanese festivals.

Public tours of the house under construction leave the second floor lobby of the Children's Museum every half hour on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. The tour takes 15-20 minutes and there's a maximum of 10 persons per group. First come, first served. Museum admission fee required; no additional charge for tour.

Need $ Million For Water Study

More than a million dollars more are needed to complete the 208 clean water study, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said this week.

Clark admitted the funds might be hard to get. "Getting a million-plus dollars from the federal government is no small task," he said.

Current funding allotted for next year is $37,000. At that rate, the study would be out of date before it was completed, according to the manager.

Congressional representatives should be alerted to the need for more funds, Clark said, and should work to get priorities set among federal bureaucracies so sufficient funds are directed here.

The study so far was called a "sound basis for making a rational targeted decision" by Clark. But he said it does not present a cost-effective plan for solving pollution problems.

Major sources of pollution could be zeroed in on easily, Clark said. "It doesn't take any made genius to see that a pipe dumping raw sewage into the river is a major source of pollution," Clark said.

Once spotted, the major sources should be studied in depth, the manager said. Lesser sources would get less attention, and so use up less of the study funds.

Clark said he thought the town will not endorse the 208 study as it is written. He said he will try to get officials of other municipalities affected by the study to object to its inadequacies.

Andover officials are more concerned with the findings of the report, Clark said, because it has a long history of being concerned about environmental quality. Other cities and towns have not, and cannot afford the time to be as concerned now.

"Places like Lawrence, Haverhill and Methuen have problems of more immediate short term importance than water quality programs," Clark said.

Long term planning for clean water, Clark said, will eventually help stem the flow of industry out of New England.

The manager said the "out-migration to the sunbelt" will end soon because water supply in the belt is reaching its capacity. The southern regions of the U. S. will populate as heavily as the water supply will allow.

When that occurs, the migration will start back to the northeast where water is more plentiful, according to Clark. Then, despite high energy costs, it will be economically feasible to support industries here.

But the water has to be clean, Clark said. "If water here is polluted, we're essentially as dry as the rest of the country."

6¢ Reward

In the year 1820 the New York Evening Post carried the offer of six cents reward for a lost, stay or stolen 19-year-old apprentice blacksmith, according to Old Sturbridge Village, the living history museum in Sturbridge.

"I Made The Dean's List"

Lahsa Apso Peanutbutter, 1, needed a lift from owner Ann Collins in order to congratulate classmate Casey during Tuesday's graduation ceremonies from obedience school. The course, in which the Irish Wolfhound and Peanutbutter were taught to sit, stay, come and heel, was sponsored by the community services department. Pets and their owners received six weekly lessons from Paul Alosky, a North Andover policeman and dog trainer. At the commencement, held in Recreation Park, each owner received a diploma and each dog received a handshake from the trainer.

Fashions

Women's fashions are always a curiosity. In 1819, thin muslin dresses, low-cut and flatteringly fitted, created concern for the ladies who wore them. Was the fashion in the best interest of the ladies' health?

Were women not even in physical danger from fire? And some people speculated whether such dresses did not reflect upon the virtue of the wearer, according to Old Sturbridge Village, the living history museum in Sturbridge.

CHANGE IS GOOD FOR A ROOM

People (especially those who live there) tend to get tired of any room if there are never any changes in it. Now we certainly don't mean that you have to go out and buy a whole new room-full of furniture every year. That's not what we're saying.

But it's human nature that we start to appreciate a room less and less if furnishings are NEVER moved or changed.

New spirit and morale in a home can be helped by either adding some new things or by just simply rearranging some furniture now and then.

Of course, the ideal solution to keep your rooms from becoming static is to have at least some brand new furniture and/or accessories, but between the times you actually go out and buy some new furnishings, try some rearrangements.

Another good thought to avoid monotony is to add some different colors and some exciting displays.

Look around your rooms and see where you can make some changes to bring new life to them. And, when you're ready for some new designs, colors, styles, or simply one new piece of furniture, or one new accessory, come in here.

Mary Bainbridge

Observes 80th Birthday During Visit

Celebrating her 80th birthday this week is Mrs. Mary Bainbridge, who traveled alone from Yorkshire, England, to visit her two sons and their families — Trevor, who lives in Andover and Philip, who lives in Lexington.

A party was held on Friday evening at the home of Trevor and his wife, Margaret. On Monday, July 30, which was her birthday, the families got together for an evening out to dinner. Gifts were exchanged, as Trevor and Margaret celebrated their wedding anniversary on the same date.

Mrs. Bainbridge has been in this country since May 23 and will be spending the remainder of the summer here but does not plan on traveling too much as she has seen Niagara Falls, New York City and Washington D.C., Montreal and other tourist attractions on previous visits to the States.

said. He suggested a heightened awareness of citizens' responsibilities so they will exercise more discipline. That, he said, is the motivation behind his "Vandalism is a Waste" bumper sticker campaign.

He said he thought "people basically want to obey the law," but "there are interesting examples of duplicity in people's thought processes." He used the example of the parent who opposed vandalism, but had a radar bleeper in his car to warn him when his highway speed was being checked. This indicated that some citizens think one law should be obeyed more than another, Clark said.

He said he wanted to call on the "better sense of judgment" people have to reduce vandalism. And he said he thought a majority of the vandalism is done by young people in the community, not taxpayers and voters.

He urged the vandals to stop of their own accord because, "when push comes to shove, I dare say the selectmen are going to be more responsive to the adult community."

satisfactory progress towards a degree is maintained and good academic standing is achieved. This year more than 90 high school students competed for an award.

David is a 1979 graduate of Andover High School and plans to attend Tufts University in the fall.

David's hobbies include listening to music and weight lifting. He enjoys soccer and has played on the varsity team throughout high school, receiving three varsity letters. While attending school, David was a member of the National Honor Society. As a member of the Math Club, David received a Certificate of Merit and achievement on the district level; in addition, he received a Letter of Commendation for his performance on PSAT.

'S' and 'F'

Did you ever wonder why an 's' sometimes looked like an 'f' in old printing? As a type, the loop or "kern" of the long 's' was delicate, easily broken and expensive to replace. After 1800, despite Ben Franklin's opposition to exclusive use of the short "ugly" letter, the long 's' was used less and less often, according to Old Sturbridge Village, the living history museum in Sturbridge.

Fire Alarm

Unfortunately, nobody has come up with a Fire Insurance that will prevent fires. Properly maintained and engineered buildings can help prevent them though. When we handle your Fire Insurance we tell you more than just the price. Often we can point out relatively minor improvements that can reduce your premium, and your likelihood of a fire.

But whatever Fire Insurance you buy from us, you'll know it's the best available for the price. We'll stake our reputation on that.

Phone Co. Contributes $1.2 Billion

Through local purchases, payrolls and taxes, New England Telephone contributed some $1.2 billion last year to the economies of five New England states.

Area telephone manager Margaret Carrington said, "As one of the state's largest employers — New England Telephone issued payroll checks amounting to $557 million. In addition to payrolls — the company paid $126 million in Massachusetts and local taxes last year."

New England Telephone is one of 23 operating telephone companies in the Bell System which also includes AT&T Long Lines Department, Western Electric and Bell Laboratories.

Carrington said, Western Electric — the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System — alone paid more than $170 million to over 2,000 businesses in Massachusetts in 1978.

Owners of New England Telephone and AT&T stock living in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island received nearly $200 million in dividends in 1978.

Olympian Heads For International Meet

An Andover Special Olympian will be aboard the Lake Shore limited out of South Station next Wednesday, bound for international competition.

Barbara White, 15, will be traveling to Brockport, N. Y., for the International Special Olympics where she will compete with athletes from 22 other countries and the United States. During the three day competition Barbara will race in the 50 meter dash and test her arm in the softball throw.

Although this is her first international competition, Barbara is not new to organized sporting events. She has competed "for years" in Massachusetts Special Olympics, according to her mother, Priscilla, 1 Talbot Road. She has placed first second or third in bowling, relay races, swimming races, dashes and the softball throw in previous meets, and has seven medals and a trophy to show for it.

The road to Brockport began earlier this summer at the Special Olympics games at Taunton, June 15 and 16. There, Barbara won a silver medal in the dash and came in fourth in the softball throw, just missing winning a medal.

Like all athletes, Barbara keeps a regular training schedule. Every afternoon she runs about two miles through the streets of her neighborhood. And several times a week she practices the softball throw.

On her trip to the international games, held every four years, she will be accompanied by her mother and three other members of the U. S. track team from Massachusetts. The four athletes were among 90 selected from the Taunton games to represent the U. S. at the special olympics.

Members of the teams and their chaperones will stay in the dormitories at the State University College at Brockport. Each athlete will receive an 11 piece athletic uniform.

After the games are over, the participants will take a day trip to Niagara Falls before leaving for home.

The preparations for her trip to Brockport, the training for her athletic events and the anticipation of meeting other athletes from around the world has Barbara excited about the competition.

A Young Olympian

Barbara White displays the medals and a trophy she won at past Massachusetts Special Olympics. She leaves this week for the International Special Olympics in Brockport, N.Y., to compete against athletes from the U.S. and 22 other countries. Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David White, 1 Talbot Road.

Cohen Acts On Rail Study Matter

At the request of Gerald M. Cohen, a meeting to discuss the feasibility of reinstating Commuter Rail Service to Merrimack Valley was held in State Secretary of Transportation Barry Locke's office on Monday, July 30.

Among those present were Andover town officials, Jared S.A. Clark and Edward Harris, along with spokesman for U.M.T.A. (Urban Mass. Transportatoin Authority), M.B.T.A. (Mass. Bay Transit Authority), and M.U.R.T.A. (Mass. Urban Rail Transit Authority). Assistants to Rep. Cohen were also there.

During the course of discussion many lines of communication were opened, providing each participant with a better understanding of the proposed commuter rail project.

The meeting focused on U.M.T.A.'s reluctance to award M.U.R.T.A. with a 1.2 million dollar federal grant. This grant would provide the necessary funding to up- grade the Merrimack Valley commuter

We'll Dampen An Arid No. Reading

Andover may be supplying water to North Reading on a long-term basis as the only feasible solution to the neighboring community's problems.

While North Reading residents must approve negotiating a contract between the two towns at an Aug. 20 town meeting, discussions between the two towns took place this week on the possibility of the long term contract.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark and Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade met with North Reading Town Administrator Chester Spinney to review what efforts that community has taken to solve its water supply problems.

Andover has been supplying North Reading with water for some time on an emergency basis, due to contamination of its wells.

Town Manager Clark said this week that he will recommend that the town continue to supply North Reading through the balance of this year and next year as well on an emergency basis, or while negotiation of a long term contract is underway.

Andover selectmen had been reluctant to agree to any long term agreement to supply water to other communities, until such time as all alternatives were exhausted.

Clark said this week that the North Reading problem, "is a unique situation. There appears to be no other feasible solution to North Reading's water supply problems and that is the reason why I am giving favorable consideration to the proposal."

Any agreement would have to be kept simple, the manager said, emphasizing that North Reading officials would have to understand that Andover selectmen, as water commissioners have complete control of the water supply and system for Andover. North Reading, on the other hand, should be aware of the amount of water it can obtain from Andover, thus the establishment of minimum-maximum draw for the neighboring town.

Any physical improvements to the system to supply North Reading would be at their expense. Required would be a larger transmission line in order to have a minimal effect on the Andover system. The present line, if used on a long term basis, would require additional expense and manpower on the treatment plant facilities in Andover.

Another factor will be consideration of the rate structure. Currently North Reading pays Andover $1.03 per 100 cubic feet of water, as compared to 81 cents for Andover users. The rate is based on Andover users paying 70 per cent of the cost of water department operations, the remainder underwritten by general taxation.

Clark said a study would have to be made to determine a fair rate for North Reading considering all costs of production of water for that community. The study would be made by consultants taking into consideration the various factors involved, such as it being cheaper to ship 1 million gallons of water to one point as compared to servicing 5,000 users. Increased costs of production of the water, however, would also have to be considered.

The treatment plant facilities can now produce an additional six million gallons per day without any strain on equipment or storage facilities. Beyond that, new tanks would have to be built, with foundation work and plans already available for such a contingency.

The North Reading situation is unique, in that the town has no alternatives, as compared to other nearby municipalities which have drawn on the Andover system in emergencies.

Tewksbury, for instance, is currently studying the possibility of building its own treatment plant or go onto the Lowell water treatment plant to solve its supply problems.

Shawsheen Champs At Sports Day

On Friday, July 27, the fifth annual Good Sports Competition was held, hosted by the Doherty Playground staff. All playgrounds participated. For the second consecutive year, Shawsheen took home the trophy.

The competition was keen, enthusiasm was high and the final scores were very close. Shawsheen grabbed first places in the Obstacle course, orange pass, 3-legged race and dizzy izzzy which helped them to accumulate their 142 points. West showed outstanding performance in Jokari, stilt walking, pie eating, and the balloon stuff, and finished with 120 points. Sanborn also finished with 120 points and captured first in jelly bean guess, balloon relay, bubble gum blowing and licorice eating. In third place was Ballardvale with 94 points and coming in right behind, was South with 93 points. Doherty finished with 82 points and really outdid themselves in Frisbee Golf K-2 and 3-6.

The staff proved that they were good sports by participating in a blueberry pie eating contest.

Photos, clockwise, beginning at upper left: Scott Wagner, left, 9, and Debbie Prussman, 12, nibble their way to victory in the licorice eating contest. Kurt Solomon, 7, gets off to a fierce start in the donut eating contest, in which contestants had to eat all of a strung donut without letting drop. Joined at the ankle and hugging each other for support, four-year-old Shannon Cassidy (left) and Anne Murnane, 6, teamed up for the three-legged race. Everybody got into the act including the counsellors who competed in a pie-eating contest. Chris Lynch, right, won relatively cleanly. The stilt race gets off to a teetery start as a three-legged pair practice at the sidelines. In what was supposed to be a chin-to-chin orange pass, Laura Ladd, 8, lends a helping hand to six-year-old Mark Edelsberg.

Bancroft Problems Continue

Pupils at Bancroft school will have to wait until probably November before getting into their proper classrooms.

School officials this week are working on getting the Bancroft roof project ready for rebidding, which means the work, if awarded, will be going on when classes resume in September.

Voters approved $196,000 at the annual town meeting to have the roof work done this summer. When the project was put out to bid a month or so ago, one contractor filed a proposal which totalled $250,000.

Thus the project was sent back to the drawing board, thanks not only to the bid being in excess of the funds allotted, but also a project of that magnitude would require conformance with architectural barrier stipulations.

The scope of the project, and possibly some of the requirements will be scaled down in an effort to once and for all replace the roof, which leaks, has sagged from heavy snow piles, and required closing of the building as a safety precaution at times the past couple of years.

Frankly, the roof repairs may just be the tip of the problem, pun not intended.

Bancroft school has been a problem to the town almost from the day it opened. The roof was leaking then, and carpets had to be replaced by the general contractor. That was ten years ago.

The innovative design of the building captured the attention of thousands who have visited there over the past decade. Pupils find it an entertaining place in which to pursue their education.

But, we suspect that as time goes on, the structural problems of the Bancroft will continue, even after the roof gets repaired.

It has probably proven to be the costliest new structure the town has erected. Shortly after it was opened, the building had to be sprinklered in order to meet state and local fire and building codes.

This was necessitated due to the building being of principally wood construction.

Rugs have had to be replaced due to rotting caused by the constant roof leaks.

A year ago money was spent to make some temporary repairs to roof and ceilings.

This year the repair costs will be in the vicinity of another $200,000.

There is little doubt there will be continued expense in the years ahead to keep the building functional.

Hindsight, of course, is always 20/20.

No one dreamed of such problems when the structure was presented in model form over ten years ago. It was unique in design and would be built when the open-concept of education was reaching its peak. Enthusiasm dimmed the thought that the architectural concept was probably better suited for areas such as Arizona, rather than weathering New England climate, among other factors.

Andover must live with the building now, even though, in the long run, getting rid of it and starting anew may be the least expensive alternative.

An important factor to consider in all of this is that while all these repair funds have been applied to Bancroft, other structures in the school system, have had to be given lesser attention, and will soon be facing costly repairs.

The town has invested many millions of dollars in its school plant. Annually, among the first items to be cut at budget time are those costs assigned to building maintenance and upkeep.

Faced with major expense to get the Bancroft in shape has led to a hesitancy to request funding of projects in other buildings.

We would anticipate that expenses of a major nature will be coming down the road soon to upgrade the other school buildings, or at least some action to insure their longevity in view of another major building program to accommodate secondary school population problems.

Meanwhile, Bancroft pupils will be shuttled off to other schools beginning in September, with the hope they can be returned to their proper building by November. Based on the problems faced over the years at the school, getting them in by November will be an accomplishment.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — August 1904

The lightening of last night struck the house of William B. Cheever on Chestnut Street, but fortunately the damage was not serious. The bolt ripped several bricks from the chimney and entered the cellar, disturbing things somewhat. The occupants, besides getting a severe fright, were not injured. The lightening caused havoc with the electric lights throughout the town, a fuse being burned out, extinguishing all the lights.

Prof. E. Y. Hincks, while fishing in a mountain brook, slipped and had a heavy fall which made a very bad bruise and broke two ribs. He will prolong his stay at Randolph.

All owners of canines should see that the taxes are paid as they are now overdue and the owners are liable to fine.

The rate of taxation was fixed by the board of selectmen Monday night at their regular meeting. The rate will be the same as last year, $16 per $1000.

The hook and ladder truck of the Andover Steam Fire Engine Company has just been given a new coat of paint and is now a beautiful specimen of the artist's skill. The background is painted a beautiful deep red and the ladders are the same color. Artistic ornaments in black, gold and white add to the beauty of the machine.

50 Years Ago — August 1929

Two hundred members of Clan Johnston 185, O.S.C., and the Ladies' Auxilliary with children and friends attended the annual picnic held jointly under the auspices of both organizations Saturday afternoon at Salem Willows. A fine list of sports events, with a luncheon, bathing and patronage of the beach amusements all favored by ideal weather, afforded a fine day's outing for the happy gathering. The single men were victorious over the married men by a score of four to zero in the soccer game.

Two hundred spectators (including babies and dogs) witnessed the stilt contest held at the Playstead on Monday evening.

Police of this town under the orders of George A. Parker, State registrar of motor vehicles, joined Monday in the automobile check-up campaign conducted throughout the state of Massachusetts. The purpose of the campaign was to stop every vehicle and insofar as was practicable, check the brakes, lights and other equipment.

Two of Andover's old landmarks, the Stowe house and the Samaritan house, used for many years as the residence of the principal of Phillips are now jacked up and moving to new locations under the guidance of Soley and Blair of Boston.

25 Years Ago — August 1954

Letters of resignation from two teachers were read at the special meeting of the school committee last Friday night leaving four vacancies which will be filled at a meeting to be held August 17.

The Red Cross is grateful to Andover for its generous response to the call for blood. During last week's bloodmobile visit, 71 pints were collected, an excellent record for a summer day.

The pace of events at the local town beach has heightened as the season progresses. There remain but five weeks to the current season and for each week there will be a separate set of events.

A number of young women are expected to participate in the archery shoot which the Andover Sportsman's Club will hold on the club grounds Saturday, Aug. 28. Trophies will be awarded in four divisions: women, men, boys and girls.

10 Years Ago — August 1969

Hours for the serving of alcoholic beverages at local clubs and restaurants will remain the same despite an appeal from a group of motel and country club owners.

Edward I. Erickson, who spent 41 years in a career in education, 20 of those years a superintendent of schools in Andover, retired this week.

Excessive humidity which wilted nearly everybody the past few days, also did a job on telephone service locally over the weekend. Sunday and Monday, calls being processed through the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company on Elm Street were getting through to some people and not others.

Choice of Andover's third town manager has narrowed down to one prime candidate who is considering an offer made by the selectmen Tuesday to accept the town's top administrative post. Chairman Robert A. Watters said Wednesday that he had not as yet heard from the candidate, following a full meeting with the board Tuesday afternoon.

Streetlights, street signs and traffic control problems will be among the topics to be discussed at a special meeting of the selectmen Monday night.

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR WEEKLY SPECIAL

Here's Inside Story Of Carter Cabinet Purge

WASHINGTON — Washington has been in an uproar over President Carter's Cabinet upheaval. But the dust is now beginning to settle, and we have pieced together the inside story of the great shake-up.

The president had put together a reasonably competent Cabinet and had told the Cabinet members that he intended to run the government through them. He said he wanted them to be innovative and independent. He frequently praised their efforts. We know this is true because we have reviewed the secret Cabinet minutes.

Some Cabinet members — like Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph Califano and Transportation Secretary Brock Adams — took the president at his word. They resisted attempts by the White House staff to tell them who to appoint and what to do.

This caused friction between the professionals in the Cabinet and the amateurs in the White House. The tension became so electric that Carter summoned both the Cabinet and his staff to Camp David in April 1978. He ordered them to patch up their differences.

But Hamilton Jordan, the president's favorite aide, continued to grumble. He complained that some Cabinet officers were putting their own careers ahead of the president's reelection. None of them could continue their work, he argued, if the president should be defeated in 1980.

Jordan told associates that he would fire at least two Cabinet members if he had the authority. That was more than a year ago. The president listened to Jordan's complaints but didn't act on them.

On July 1 of this year, Carter rushed home from the Far East to deal with the political crisis caused by the gasoline shortage. He canceled a vacation in Hawaii with his wife, Rosalynn. At one point, he asked for Califano. The president was told that Califano was vacationing — in Hawaii.

Carter was furious. He instructed Vice President Walter Mondale to telephone Califano and tell him to get himself back home.

In the end, the president consulted the person he has described as his "best adviser" — Rosalynn Carter. Privately, the president confided that she had questioned the loyalty of some Cabinet members. Carter said his own inclination was to trust people, but she was far less trusting.

The quiet whisperings of his wife, intimates told us, influenced him to go ahead with the Cabinet purge.

So, by presidential decree, the second most powerful man in the country is now Hamilton Jordan. He has been given the power to run the government, freeing President Carter to contemplate the big issues.

Our reporters have talked to Jordan's family, friends and neighbors. Their impression of him is significantly different from the public image. The press has portrayed Jordan as a witty, convivial fellow who drinks too much and loves too many. But his friends describe him as sensitive, compassionate and emotional.

The public has been told he is tough, tireless and pressure-proof, able to shrug off the slings and arrows aimed at him by political opponents. But his friends say Jordan is upset by what is said and written about him. He can become moody and morose when he is hurt.

Jordan, the savvy political operator, also has the soul of a poet. He has written unpublished poetry and short stories. Once, he went off to a cabin in the mountains with the intention of writing a book. But he gave up after a week because he couldn't figure out how to work the heater in the cabin.

Jordan works long and hard. He gets totally involved in whatever he is doing. Routine 9-to-5 jobs bore him.

Now he is supposed to administer the government for President Carter. There's just one problem: Even his best friends agree he has no administrative skills. He doesn't keep appointments. He seldom returns telephone calls. He disappears for hours, sometimes days. He has no follow-through.

This is the man who is supposed to crack the whip and run the government the way Carter wants it run. As one Jordan friend put it, Hamilton Jordan was always "poor at running anything."

WATCH ON WASTE: Congressional investigators have discovered several waste water treatment plants where thousands of dollars have been spent on decorative instead of functional equipment. About 75 percent of the money spent for the plants comes from the federal treasury.

One plant resembled a Spanish palace by the time construction was completed. It is graced with a stucco exterior and a tiled roof with decorative arches. It is surrounded by a stucco wall capped with red tile. The wall alone cost $200,000.

At another plant, $300,000 was spent to construct a mosaic tile fountain. At still another facility, a useless reflecting pool was built at a cost of $80,000.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: The General Accounting Office estimates that about 5 million Americans are not filing income tax returns. They are costing Uncle Sam a whopping $2 billion a year in lost revenue ... Last April, in a show of solidarity with the United Farmworkers, several congressmen succeeded in getting Chiquita-brand bananas banished from Capitol Hill cafeterias. But the banned bananas have quietly reappeared.

Ruthers Extend Streak To Five

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Babe Ruth 13-15 baseball team stretched its late-season win streak through five games last week, chalking up impressive victories over North Lawrence (7-0), South Lawrence East (7-2) and Tower Hill (6-3).

Those triumphs came on the heels of an 11-8 and 10-inning 8-6 sweep of back-to-back games against Prospect Hill.

The results left Andover with a 12-4 record in Greater-Lawrence League action, and a 15-4 mark overall.

Including their two-game sweep in Canada, the locals have now won eight of their last nine starts.

Andover received four more outstanding pitching performances, including a no-hitter by Rich Grimm, a two-hit shutout from Glenn McIntyre, and 30 strikeouts in two games by Jon Pelletier.

Pelletier also stretched his hitting streak to 14 straight games before it was broken by Tower Hill, and he is stroking the ball at a sizzling team record .534 clip entering this week.

The regular season was slated to conclude earlier this week with makeup games against South Lawrence East (Monday) and archrival North Andover (Tuesday). NA had reeled off 14 straight victories after a season-opening 5-1 loss to Andover.

The league playoffs will begin next week.

Andover, 8-6 (10 inns.)

Hard-throwing righthander Jon Pelletier went the full 10-inning distance on the mound, allowing just three hits and striking out 16 as Andover completed a sweep of its season series against Prospect Hill with this victory at Mark Devlin Field.

Two of the games with PH went extra frames, as Andover also rallied for an eight-inning 3-2 win earlier this summer.

Prospect Hill (8-10) grabbed a 1-0 advantage in the first inning, when leadoff batter Ken Lacroix walked and later scored on a wild pitch.

Andover bounced back with four runs in the second against complete game losing pitcher Bob D'Urso.

Glenn McIntyre and Rich Grimm lashed one-out singles, a walk to Andy Emmert loaded the bases, and a two-out free pass to Ed O'Connor forced home the tying run. Tim Grams followed with a two-run single, and Jeff Demers capped the uprising with an RBI single.

Prospect Hill retaliated with two unearned runs in the bottom of the second, taking advantage of two walks and a costly throwing error.

The home team tied it 4-4 in the third when Mike Ferris walked, and Elbie Alba tripled for the first Prospect Hill hit. Elba tried to stretch his opposite-field blast into a homerun, however, and was cut down on a fine relay throw from Grimm to Demers to Emmert.

Both pitchers took command until the top of the sixth, when Andover inched ahead 5-4. Grimm drilled a single to left field, and when the ball skipped past the outfielder he circled the basis for the go-ahead run.

PH tied it again in the home half, however, as Ferris walked, Alba was hit by a pitch, both advanced on an infield out, and Ferris crossed on a wild pitch.

Andover had runners at first and third in the top of the seventh with two outs, but failed to score. Lacroix led off the bottom of the inning with a double. Mike Panagiotakos walked, and t two-out walk to Ferris loaded the bases. The count went to 2-2 on Alba before he fanned, sending the contest into extra innings.

Andover took a 6-5 lead in the top of the eighth. McIntyre singled, stole second, took third on Grimm's sacrifice bunt, and barely beat the throw home after Emmert bounced out pitcher to first.

Pesky Prospect Hill pulled even 6-6 in the bottom of the eighth on a walk, hit batsman and two throwing errors. They also left runners at second and third as D'Urso struck out.

With one out in the Andover ninth Grams singled and stole second. Demers laid down a sacrifice bunt, but Grams was nipped at the plate trying to score all the way from second base.

PH kept it interesting by getting men to second and third with one out in the last of the ninth. Pelletier bore down at this point, retiring Mike Piccarillo on an infield grounder and whiffing B.J. Broadhurst.

Pelletier led the Andover 10th with a walk, took second on an error, and raced home with the winning run on Jake Powell's single. Popwell eventually notched the insurance run on Rich Grimm's suicide squeeze bunt.

Lacroix reached on a one-out error in the bottom of the 10th. But Grimm ended the game with a fine running catch on Panagiotakos, and he then doubled Lacroix off second base.

McIntyre, Grimm and Grams stroked two hits apiece for Andover.

his league pitching record to 3-1, and his overall mark to 4-1, as he whitewashed North Lawrence with a brilliant two-hit shutout at the East Junior High Playstead Field.

McIntyre did not walk a batter and he struck out seven.

The shutout was McIntyre's second of the season and the team's third (Rich Grimm owns one).

Glenn set the side down 1-2-3 in four of the seven innings, retired 11 straight batters during one stretch, and only had three balls hit out of the infield against him.

Andover bolted to a quick 4-0 lead in the bottom of the first, highlighted by a two-run single from Jon Pelletier and an RBI basehit by Andy Emmert.

The winners made it 5-0 in the third.

McIntyre, Grimm and Emmert worked North Lawrence starter Rob Valentino for successive one-out walks, and McIntyre scored on Matt Wells' infield out.

The final two Andover markers came in the fourth. Tim Grams walked, stole second, and raced home on Pelletier's single. Jake Powell then singled home Pelletier.

The lone North Lawrence threat occurred in the second when two walks, plus a single by Jon Veilleux, loaded the bases with one out. McIntyre struck out the next two batters to kill the bid.

Barry Paleno opened the NL sixth with a long triple to leftfield, but he was left stranded at third as the next three batters were retired easily.

McIntyre threw just 83 pitches in the game.

Pelletier had three of Andover's five safeties, going 3-for-4 and scoring two runs. Grams and McIntyre also scored twice each.

Steve Dougal played a strong defensive game at second base for Andover, hand-

Four Warriors In All Star Clash

Dick Collins

Four Andover High players and Head Coach Dick Collins will be participants in the 18th annual Harry Agganis All Star football game set for Friday night, Aug. 10 at Manning Bowl, Lynn.

Joining other high school standouts from the Merrimack Valley Conference and Cape Ann League on the North team will be Ed Collins, halfback, Len Driscoll, linebacker; Paul Farnham, end and Raymond Lynch, defensive end.

Head Coach for the North squad is Tom Caito of Chelmsford.

Touchdowns may be a "dime a dozen" if past individual records run true to form.

North backs Eric Hansen of Lynnfield, Doug Foley of Triton and Dave Nicolaou of Dracut chalked up 77 touchdowns for 462 points for career totals in the Cape Ann and Merrimack Valley Leagues. This trio of high-scoring runners appear to be starters for the North unit.

Over in the South camp, the touchdown parade is even more impressive with Derek Coons (Manchester), Steve Rubin (Winthrop) and Paul Nigro (Saugus) totaling 81 touchdowns for a high mark of 486 points.

Coons, playing for relatively obscure Manchester, led his team to a 10-0 record to win the Mayflower League and has the best credentials in the North camp with 35 TD's and 2219 yards as career marks.

According to his coach Ira Yavner, newly-elected mentor of Wakefield High, the 5'11-185 lb. speedster, is a jarring runner with great endurance and skills and is a real crowd-pleaser.

Doug Foley and Eric Hansen are only a few yards apart as they lead all North backs with 2484 total and 2454, respectively. Both players have equal TD career marks with 26.

After a few days of warm-up drills and conditioning exercises, both squads will get down to strenuous sessions through Friday with light scrimmages on tap at the Holten Field camp and Phillips Andover Academy field.

Coach Tom Caito of Chelmsford (North) was quite pleased at the condition his two All-American linemen reported in. Frank Jurius, 6'2-248 tackle (Duke) and Bill Quinn, 6'3-235 (Penn State) will be the key players in the North defensive attack.

Caito had some favorable comments to make about Dave Puzzo, 6'4-245 who will play at Wake Forest next year and Carl Tiani, 6'2-245 who will enter University of New Hampshire.

"Our line is unusually big, mobile and fast; kids like that make our job much easier," said Caito. He listed several other linemen who will be seeing a great deal of action. They include Rick Childs of Chelmsford 6'1-225 (Bridgton); Jay Matorano of Chelmsford 6'4-220 (Maine); Dave Mangene, No. Reading 6'2-225 (U.N.H.); John Tyson, Chelmsford, 6'2-220 (Maine); Mark Polito, No Reading 6'1-230 (Univ. of New Haven); and Mark Kasper, Dracut, 6'2-225 (Cornell).

The squads will be practicing until Thursday night, Aug. 9 at which time they will break camp to attend the annual banquet at Caruso's in Saugus. The public is invited to practice sessions.

Andover Nationals Lose In Tourney Semi-Finals

The Andover National Little League All-Star team advanced to the semi-finals of District 14 before being eliminated by Lowell 3-1.

Prior to that semifinal loss, Andover crushed Lawrence Central 13-2 and thumped Tewksbury American 11-6. Against Lawrence Central, Andover coasted on the four-hit, twelve-strikeout pitching of John Geiger. After falling behind 1-0 in the top of the first inning, Andover struck for ten runs in their turn at bat. Mark Grams and John Geiger each had three hits for Andover. Single hits were gathered by Rob Ditroia, Tom Lutz, Chris Cormier, Bill Donovan, Mike Surette and Don Yeiter.

Against Tewksbury American, Andover struck early to build up a 9-2 lead and held off a late rally to win 11-6. Mark Grams allowed just six hits and struck out 13 in the route going performance.

Tom Lutz had four hits including a tremendous homerun. Rob Wilson had two hits, one of which was a homer and John Geiger also had two hits. Single hits were registered by Rob Ditroia, Don Yeiter, Mike Surette and Mark Grams. Gram's hit was a homerun to left.

In facing Lowell Callery, Andover's hitting waned somewhat in the 3-1 loss. They did, however, out-hit Lowell 8-3. Two fine defensive plays by Lowell erased Andover baserunners at second and third in the fourth inning when Andover had three hits but failed to score. John Geiger went the distance for Andover and was the tough luck loser. Geiger struck out nine, bringing his total to 21 in two games.

Don Yeiter and John Recesso each had two hits for Andover while Rob Wilson, Tom Lutz, John Geiger and Mike Surette each had one. Andover got at least one hit in every inning, except the sixth, but Lowell pitcher Pat McNamara did a fine job pitching out of trouble.

This is the second straight year that Andover National has advanced to the semifinals before being eliminated.

Andover American All-Stars who beat Newburyport 5-2 in the first game of District competition, then lost to South Lawrence West 10-7. ing four chances flawlessly.

Andover, 7-2

Righthander Rich Grimm hurled the first no-hitter of his Babe Ruth career, Andover's first this season, and the 10th no-hit game of the past nine years for the local team.

Grimm, who hiked his record to 3-1, struck out six, walked six and delivered 108 pitches.

Both South Lawrence East runs were unearned.

Andover grabbed a 1-0 edge in the top of the first when Tim Grams singled, stole second, took third on Jeff Demers' sacrifice, and scored on a vicious line drive single by Jon Pelletier.

The locals boosted the score to 3-0 in the third. Grams again started things with a walk, stole second, took third on an infield out, and crossed when Glenn McIntyre's grounder was booted. Mac then swiped second, and he was rescued by Jake Powell's single.

Grimm breezed through the first three innings, issuing only a two-out first inning walk to Rob Hamilton and facing just 10 batters.

In the SLE fourth, however, Jim Nardiff led with a walk, Hamilton was safe on an outfield error, Mike Conway walked to load the bases, and Nick Ardagna walked to force home a run.

Dave Girabaldi then lofted a long fly to centerfield, which Pelletier hauled down. Jon then uncorked a strike to catcher Andy Emmert, who slapped the tag on Hamilton trying to score to complete a doubleplay.

Andover boosted its lead to 5-1 in the fifth. Pelletier drilled a long one-out triple to the rightfield fence at Devlin field, and McIntyre followed with an RBI double to left-centerfield.

Mac stole third, Rich Grimm walked, and the pair then worked a successful delayed double steal.

The locals notched their final two in the top of the seventh. McIntyre was safe on a two-out infield error, stole second, and Jake Powell ripped a run-scoring double to leftfield. Grimm then followed with a RBI single to left-center.

SLE notched its second run in the bottom of the seventh, as Giribaldi reached on an infield error and later scored on a throwing error.

Pelletier, Powell and Grimm led the seven-hit Andover attack against Steve Rourke with two safeties apiece, while McIntyre scored three runs and Grams two.

Infielders Powell, Jeff Demers and Matt Wells played solid defensive ball for Andover.

Andover, 6-3

Andover, which has not been swept in a season's series by any team for a number of years, chalked up its first victory in three tries against Tower Hill.

TH had captured the first two meetings between the teams, taking advantage of Andover fielding lapses both times for 4-3 (eight innings) and 6-4 victories.

Jon Pelletier hiked his personal mound mark to 5-1 with his sixth straight complete game effort. He permitted five hits, struck out 14, walked only two, and threw 110 pitches.

Jon's strikeout total game him 30 in the last two games.

The locals jumped to a brief 1-0 lead in the top of the first. Tim Grams singled and continued to second when the ball was booted in rightfield. Jeff Demers bunted him to third, and Pelletier brought him across with a sharp grounder to second base.

Tower Hill retaliated with a pair of runs in the last of the first. Pete Mical singled to rightfield, Kevin Sirois walked, both advanced on a passed ball, and losing pitcher Brian Toohey slashed a solid two-run double to left-centerfield.

Pelletier then game a little commercial of what was to come, striking out the next three batters. He also fanned the side in the second and fifth.

Righthander Rich Grimm hurled the first no-hitter of his Babe Ruth career, An-dover's first this season, and the 10th no-hit gem of the past nine years for the local team.

Grimm, who hiked his record to 3-1, struck out six walked six and delivered 108 pitches.

Both South Lawrence East runs were unearned.

Andover grabbed a 1-0 edge in the top of the first when Tim Grams singled, stole second, took third on Jeff Demers' sacrifice, and scored on a vicious line drive single by Jon Pelletier.

The locals boosted the score to 3-0 in the third. Grams again started things with a walk, stole second, took third on an infield out, and crossed when Glenn McIntyre's grounder was booted. Mac then swiped second, and he was rescued by Jake Powell's single.

Grimm breezed through the first three innings, issuing only a two-out first inning walk to Rob Hamilton and facing just 10 batters.

In the SLE fourth, however, Jim Nardiff led with a walk, Hamilton was safe on an outfield error, Mike Conway walked to load the bases, and Nick Ardagna walked to force home a run.

Dave Giribaldi then lofted a long fly to centerfield which Pelletier hauled down. Jon then uncorked a strike to catcher Andy Emmert, who slapped the tag on Hamilton trying to score to complete a doubleplay.

Andover boosted its lead to 5-1 in the fifth. Pelletier drilled a long one-out triple to the rightfield fence at Devlin Field, and McIntyre followed with an RBI double to left-centerfield.

Mac stole third, Rich Grimm walked, and the pair then worked a successful delayed double steal.

Andover loaded the basis in the second on a Rich Grimm single, a walk to Ed O'Connor and a walk to Grams. However, a pop out to first base ended the threat and preserved TH's 2-1 lead.

Neither team did much offensively until the fifth, when Andover struck for a pair of runs and a 3-2 advantage.

Ed O'Connor dumped a single to leftfield, and he was replaced by pinchrunner Andy Emmert who promptly stole second and third. Consecutive two-out walks to Pelletier and Glenn McIntyre loaded the basis, setting the stage for Jake Powell who roped Toohey's first serve to left-centerfield for a clutch two-run double.

Tower Hill came back to tie it in the bottom of the sixth, however. Peter Mical led the inning with a single to rightfield, and he went all the way to third when the ball skipped past the outfielder.

Sirois followed with a walk, and after Brian Toohey struck out, Bill Toohey laid down a perfect suicide squeeze bunt to chase home Mical.

Jake Powell then saved the day at third base, gobbling up Tom Driscoll's sharp grounder and turning it into an inning-ending doubleplay.

Andover broke the 3-3 deadlock with three runs in the seventh. Jeff Demers singled to left, Pelletier drew his third walk of the game, and Glenn McIntyre beat out a bunt to load the bases with no outs.

Powell followed with a grounder to short, and when the throw home was too late to get Demers, the bases remained loaded with Andover taking a 4-3 lead.

McIntyre scored an insurance run on a wild pitch, Matt Wells drew a one-out walk to re-load the bases, and a subsequent free pass to Ed O'Connor forced in the final run.

Dave Fazio opened the TH seventh with an opposite-field single to left, but Pelletier retired the next three batters easily to secure the victory.

Powell finished the game 2-for-4 and was a defensive standout at the hot corner. Jeff Demers also made a fine defensive play at second base.

Jon Pelletier went 0-for-1 in the game, breaking his 14-game hitting streak that had started after an 0-for-3 effort on opening day against North Andover.

Pelletier entered the final week of the regular season with an incredible .534 batting average (31-for-58), a full 73 points above the existing single-season team record of .461.

The world is ready for a classic coupe with a diesel engine. Introducing the new Mercedes-Benz 300CD.

PROTECTED FUEL TANK

The rakish shape of the 300CD belies its surprising practicality. It has the five-cylinder diesel engine that Mercedes-Benz pioneered in 1974.

This smooth 3-liter engine, with an overhead camshaft and pre-combustion fuel injection, delivers unusual acceleration with all the traditional advantages of a diesel—no conventional tune-ups, increased reliability, and lower fuel costs.

The fuel tank of the 300CD has been placed over the rear axle—to protect it from impact (see drawing).

The taut new profile of the 300CD has a purity that won't diminish with time. The pillarless design and graceful arc of the roofline echo the beauty of the famous 450SLC.

It's like no other coupe in the world.
Call today and drive it.

WHO DECIDES WHICH CAR YOU BUY—YOU OR THE EPA?

The gas mileage of every new car sold in America is published as a public service by the EPA (Environmental Protection Agency). So if fuel economy is all you care about, the government can help you choose what car to buy.

However, you need more than just a gas tank and a fuel gauge. So if you want good mileage plus comfort, tough construction, performance and safety, then you have a decision to make. And the government can't make it for you. So, with all the cars to choose from, it could be a hard decision. Except that Volvo makes it easy. VOLVO

MORTGAGE INTEREST VS EQUITY

It is true that owning a home builds a dollar-value equity for you as you pay off the mortgage. How much of your monthly payment goes to paying off the principal and how much goes to pay off the interest is another story. The outcome depends on how long you have been making payments.

Inasmuch as most mortgages are self-liquidating loans, you will pay a level amount each month toward paying off the interest and reduction of principal. However, remember that the interest is first computed on the balance due and therefore the first payment is practically all interest and last payment is practically all principal. About midway during the term of the mortgage, the interest and principal payments are about equal.

The one saving grace in the early years of high interest payments, is that all of this interest is tax deductible which can be a hefty deduction indeed.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pynchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Eaton Takes Issue With News Report

School committeeman John Eaton Tuesday night took issue with a two-week old Townsman report that the board was unanimously against a two-year junior high.

He said he has not been swayed "one way or another" regarding a two-year school, and that he hoped the school building committee would still consider the 6-2-4 grade grouping plan as an option.

He said he was "very, very upset with the Townsman in general," and that this was "not the first erroneous information" contained in its pages.

He said he would like to see a banner headline at the top of the paper which read, "For Amusement Only."

office at 11 Lawrence St. It is one facet of the Shannon Outreach program which also includes Open Forum Town Meetings in every community, Elderly Outreach visits, and special events or conferences.

Shannon expressed his hope that constituents will take advantage of the services of the Mobile Office. "Staff people will be available to provide assistance as necessary in dealing with governmental agencies. I hope," the Congressman continued, "that citizens will utilize the Mobile Office, not only when they require such assistance, but also when they wish to discuss issues of concern or to communicate their views."

Manager Needed

The Andover Babe Ruth team will be seeking people interested in both manager and coaching positions with the team next year. Those interested should contact Rick Harrison at 475-2007

Trash Pickup Starts At 7 a.m.

Andover's refuse pickup service now begins at 7 a.m. daily.

Towne Deli It's Cool Cool!

These Dog Days are a drag . . . for everyone.

Humidity and heat spell lethargy for most but particularly for the woman in the kitchen. The continued hot spell is just not conducive to meal preparation, even salads. That is where Towne Deli comes in.

The lingo in vogue a while ago used the word cool to describe something very good. We can modestly say that Towne Deli is cool cool. Escape with the family to the refreshing air of our conditioned dining areas and enjoy our famous fare topped off with a frosty mug of beer or a glass of chilled wine. Guaranteed to make you forget the weather! If a few errant zephyrs are blowing our way, enjoy your meal under the umbrellas on our patio.

When you are ready to leave, look over the summer foods in our refrigerated cases and stock up your refrigerator with quick to prepare lunches that will whet even August's jaded appetites.

Yes, Town Deli is cool cool. Come enjoy it with us.
